Learn online how to drive

EDUCATIONAL software company Mindscape has recently launched a fun and interactive learning tool to prepare people of all ages for their driving licence theory and practical tests.

The Driving Licence Success: Theory & Practical Tests ($19.95), also will help:

- Experienced drivers keep up to date with changes to the road rules.
- Parents who want to teach their children the road rules and safer road use and, at the same time, help review and refresh their own knowledge.
- Interstate and overseas visitors who want to drive by providing a solid knowledge of the road rules in all states and territories.

Mindscape says the learning tool "acts as a complementary resource to the essential driving skills offered by instructors" – all in the comfort of their home.

"Driving Licence Success will equip drivers with a solid knowledge of the road rules to successfully get their licence, and help them learn safe road use and low-risk driving, all of which are areas of great importance to the Australian community," it says.

The software is available now from all good computer stores.
